EMMA WETTER HOBBS

At last I see accomplished the purpose of many years and with great satisfaction I present to my kindred, largely through their kind cooperation, a work which, though not perfect, will yet, I trust, bring much pleasure. It must of course be expected that some errors may occur in a work of this kind. The utmost care has, however, been taken to make them as few as possible. One who attempts to use this record should study carefully the following explanations.

1. The Roman Numerals mark the several generations, counted from the first one of the family coming to the United States.
2. The names are grouped by families and descendants.
3. Abbreviations used:
b. for born; d. died; s. son; dr. daughter; gr. grandparent; m. married; ch. children; (*) is used to mark those that came from Germany to establish homes in the United States.

History

The Wetter, Riedesel and Schneider families came from Wunderthausen, Westfallen, Germany. The Miller family came from Gersweiler, Saarbrucken, Germany. In respect to wealth; the families generally are in comfortable circumstances. Religion; Protestant. Politics; predominantly Republican. Physically, they have been strong and vigorous, frugal and enterprising. Morally, these people have been upright and conscientious, noted for sobriety and as far as known, no one of the family has ever been arraigned for a capital offense. They have universally manifested a strong love for their Country and a readiness to engage in its service and defense.

TO MY KINDRED

SCHNEIDER-RIEDESEL EARLY HISTORY

Parts taken from the 75th Anniversary Book of the St. Pauls Evangelical Church, Wheatland, Ia.

From Crawford Co., Ohio in 1850 two young brothers started west. They were L. Henry and George Riedesel. For three months no one heard from them, when finally the home folks at Galion, Ohio received a letter from Henry and George who were in Iowa (Wheatland Community). After they had sought out and secured such farm land as they desired, the brothers returned, though not as they came, but took the boat down the Mississippi River then over on the Ohio River to Cincinnati and there north by railroad.

Their report on the new "promised land" was so well accepted that the following year, John George Schneider and family set out for Iowa over the route by which the Riedesel brothers had returned. Leaving his family in Davenport, John George and his son, Henry, with guns upon their shoulders, started to walk in a northerly direction until they had located the land purchased by the Riedesel brothers, then the Schneider family was moved inland. J.G. Schneider verified the Riedesel report "that the land was good".

Soon others came, the families of Ludwig Duerr, Franz Homrighausen, L. Henry and John Riedesel. Ludwig Riedesel, George and family came a few years later.

All these families were from the Evangelical Reformed Church of Ohio. They were all of German descent. Other families joined them; as Carl Penningroth from Illinois and other immigrants with Reformed Church background.

Henry Riedesel and Ludwig Duerr had studied theology in Ohio under the Rev. Max Stern. These two men were then selected to conduct worship services in the homes of these families, where all would congregate on Sundays. Since most, if not all the Ohio settlers had been members of Rev. Stern's Church, he paid a visit to his Iowa friends. On this visit he baptized many children who were born since the parents had settled here.

A desire to organize a church found expression in 1857; then in November Ludwig Duerr, L. Henry Riedesel, Franz Homrighausen, J. Ludwig Riedesel, J.G. Schneider, Carl Penningroth, John Koch, William Richman and five others organized into the first German church. This church at first was affiliated with the Presbyterian Church. Later steps were taken to dissolve relationship with the present church and Oct. 17, 1861 was the date of the newly organized Reformed Church, Rev. J.C. Klar, Pastor. In 1858 the railroad came through and Wheatland was founded.
